14:45 Shipping agent panel: Shipper panel: How do buyers of freight services define their role vis-à-vis logistics service providers and within their own company?

How is the procurement planning of transport capacities perceived in industrial and commercial companies? What demands and requirements do service providers have of them? In the panel, freight buyers from different sectors will get to the bottom of the internal and external challenges. The panelists have been working intensively on the topic of procurement and distribution on the company side for years - different experiences come together here.
